Of Lincoln county, is a candidate for the nomination for State Senator in this district, subject to the action of the democratic party.

HON. HARVEY HELM will be nominated for Congress by the convention which meets at Shelbyville to-day. We are confident of it; as confident as we could possibly be of anything. The nomination may not, and likely will not, come on the first ballot, but it will come to the gallant entry from Lincoln county ere the convention is a memory. After a hard and plucky fight all the way through, our splendid townsman can see that victory is his own and no one is gladder of his success than he who indites these lines. He has "gone against" the machinery and money by the barrel, and has defeated both propositions. He has won his fight on his merits and he alone is due the credit of it. He has no one to thank for his achievement except Him who gave him his indomitable energy and his remarkable faculty of judging men. In the precinct conventions of Saturday afternoon he made all of his claims good. Months ago he said he would carry Lincoln, Garrard, Madison and Rockcastle. Those counties are to his credit, giving him 36 votes in the convention at Shelbyville to-day. He is short only nine votes of the requisite number to nominate and that he will get that number before many ballots are taken, we are absolutely confident. Mr. Helm has made a magnificent race against odds, having carried four counties out of the 10 with such able and wealthy opponents as Messrs. Gilbert and Moore. There is little wonder that he and his friends are feeling good and little doubt that they will be feeling better when the Shelbyville convention stands adjourned. Three cheers for the gallant young "Sycamore of the St. Asaph."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, of New York, and Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana, were nominated, respectively, for president and vice president of the United States by the republican National convention, as stated in our Friday's issue. In the case of the presidential nomination the roll of States was called. Senator Fairbanks was nominated by acclamation, the roll being dispensed with. The convention was called to order by Chairman Cannon, who after the invocation, announced that the selection of a presidential candidate was next in the order of business, Alabama, when called, gave way to the State of New York, which through ex-Gov. Frank S. Black, proposed the name of Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency. The delegates cheered wildly at the conclusion of his speech, and received the seconding speeches of Senator Beveridge, ex-Gov. Bradley, of Kentucky, and others with marked demonstrations. On the call for vice presidential nominations Alabama again gave way, this time in favor of Iowa, whose junior Senator, J. P. Dooliver, nominated Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana, for that honor. He was seconded by Senator Depew, of New York, amid the cheers of the enthusiastic delegates. After the adjournment of the convention, the new National Committee met and unanimously elected George B. Cortelyou its chairman. In an address to the committee, following his election, Chairman Cortelyou stated that while he sought the counsel of the members, he expected to be chairman in fact, and would accept no dictation from anyone, high or low. President Roosevelt and Senator Fairbanks, after the result had been announced, exchanged telegrams of congratulation.

A SWEEPING change in the cabinet of President Roosevelt was officially announced at the White House. The announcement came in the form of a brief typewritten statement issued by Secretary Loeb, as follows: William H. Moody, of Massachusetts, Attorney General; Paul Norton, of Illinois, Secretary of the Navy; Victor H. Metcalf, of California, Secretary of Commerce and Labor. The resignations of Secretary Cortelyou and Attorney General Knox have been accepted to take effect July 1.

POLITICAL.

Secretary Hay's ruling that the people of the United States shall be called "Americans" is antedated 128 years by a Virginia resolution.

It is said a quiet campaign is under way to secure the Democratic vice presidential nomination for Marshall Field, of Chicago. John R. McLean is also mentioned.

In a session continuing until almost 6 o'clock in the morning, Robert B. Glenn received the democratic nomination for governor of North Carolina. The delegates to the National convention will vote as a unit upon all questions, but are otherwise ununited.

Hon. John Sharp Williams, in an interview printed in the Courier Journal yesterday, analyzed the Republican platform, shows its inconsistency and in vigorous fashion pays his respects to the framers of the negro suffrage plank.

A Tammany leader is reported to have asked D. R. Francis, president of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, "in the name of the East," to become a presidential candidate before the Democratic National Convention to be held in St. Louis. It is said that Mr. Francis took kindly to the suggestion.

The New York Daily News, which has recently changed hands, has come out as a straight Democratic newspaper, and is recognized as the organ of Tammany Hall. It prints a three-page article, advocating George B. McClellan, the present mayor, as nominee of the democratic party for the presidency.

The Kentucky delegation to the Republican National Convention with the exception of the most noted members, A. E. Wilson, Leslie Combs, Gov. Bradley and Commissioner Yerkes, marched to Indiana headquarters and thanked Gov. Durbine for refusing to surrender Fugitive W. S. Taylor. Editor Roberts, of Lexington, acted as spokesman.

It is all right, we suppose, for the republicans to nominate Roosevelt and Fairbanks; they had nothing else to do and could not have done otherwise if they would, but it is slightly hard on Booker Washington that he was not afforded political recognition by the black and tan convention. But what do "niggers" think about it? asks the Lexington Democrat.

The people of Indiana along the route of the train from Chicago to Indianapolis gave Senator Fairbanks, the Republican nominee for Vice President, a warm welcome. Great crowds greeted the party wherever the train was scheduled to stop. At Indianapolis the Senator was met by a delegation of 20,000 citizens, irrespective of politics, and escorted to his home, where greetings and speeches were indulged in.

The State Department at Washington has received confirmation of the report that the French and German Ministers, while driving at Port au Prince, Hayti, were stoned by the members of the Palace Guard. The Minister's wives, who were following in another carriage, were also assailed. The two Governments have been notified, and a preemptory demand for redress is expected. The Detroit, which has been in Dominican waters during the settlement of the recent revolution, will return to San Domingo.

President Roosevelt will be notified of his nomination on July 27 and Senator Fairbanks a week later.

It is said that John Sharp Williams is the choice of the Democratic National Committee for temporary chairman of the St. Louis convention.

The father of Mr. Paul Morton, eight years ago, was a member of President Cleveland's cabinet. Now the son sits in the cabinet of President Roosevelt. Cleveland Democrats and Roosevelt Republicans are not very far apart.—Louisville Post.

County conventions to select delegates to the district convention at Paintsville next Wednesday to nominate a Republican candidate for Congress, were held in the Tenth district Saturday. Hon. Theo B. Blakely is the only announced candidate for the nomination.

The members of the State Capitol Commission returned from Mississippi, where they went to inspect the $1,000,000 Capitol just completed there. They feel that they gathered much information through the trip, and will in a day or two consider a visit to the Rhode Island State Capitol.

Bishop Ellison Capers, of South Carolina, has been elected chancellor of the University of the South to fill the unexpired term of the late Bishop Dudley.

Mrs. Charles Daurich, of Louisville, says her husband is trying to get a divorce in order to secure a legacy left on condition that he divorce her.

The general store of Litey & Clay brooke, at Texas, Washington County, burned, causing a loss of about $6,000, with $3,400 insurance.

Benjamin and Edwin Goshkey, brothers, were electrocuted by accident while picking berries near their home at Wabank, Pa.

Ex-Gov. E. M. Harris, of the Chickasaw Nation, was badly hurt by being thrown from his horse.

Speaker Cannon announces that he will shortly leave for a sea voyage on account of his health.

The women are assisting in the work of completing the defenses at Port Arthur.

Famous Crab Orchard Springs.

As the heated term approaches, the thought arises, where shall I go to seek rest and quiet and find pleasant days and cool nights? This can be easily answered. Crab Orchard Springs for nearly a century has proven a model summer resort, and this season promises to be the best in its history. There health and happiness can always be found. The days are never oppressively warm, while the nights are delightfully pleasant from June till October. The famous Crab Orchard water, (from which is made Crab Orchard Salts), Sulphur, Chalybeate, Magnesia, etc., all flow from deep springs close to the Springs Hotel. A new Epsom Well has been opened and the use of the Salt Sulphur Well at depot has been secured.

The Table.

Neither money nor pains will be spared to make the table the best to be found in Kentucky. Fine cattle, mutton, pork and poultry, fattened on the Springs farm, not surpassed anywhere.

Improvements.

The Springs buildings have all been improved, while paint and paper have been liberally used. The grounds are in the very pink of condition and present a scene lovely to behold just now. All of the walks have been regravelled. Also a complete job of plumbing just about completed from top to bottom.

Society and Amusements.

Crab Orchard Springs has long been noted for the home-like feeling that pervades the entire place. The ceremonial edicts of fashionable home life are laid aside, while each individual promotes his or her own happiness in contributing to the happiness of others.

Rates.

The rates are very low, considering the excellency of the service. For $8 to $10 per week delightful rooms and splendid fare can be obtained.

Season Opened June 1.

The season opened June 1st, and all during the Summer a splendid band of music will be in attendance.
